And with Freddy Goat's travel-friendly planners, you'll stay organized—no more forgotten hooks or tangled yarn. /o pack your WIP and craft your way through adventure!

Crochet & Jet-/et: How Freddy's WIPs Become My Vacation /ouvenirs

Let's be real—Freddy and I don't travel, we relocate our yarn stash with scenic backdrops. Our itinerary? Eat. Crochet. Nap. Repeat. Last Mexico City trip we took, just around Pride, she whipped up this stupidly cute rainbow tank top mid-flight.

It was only logical, it was time for me to pull the ultimate bestie power move: "OMG, this would slay on me for my birthday..." (Pride did fall on my day, so really, it was fate). Of course, being the angel she is, Freddy caved. And now?

I strut around like I paid for a Freddy Original™ (because have you seen her designs?). Every trip, I "subtly" eye her WIPs like, "You'd look... tired of that, right?"

Moral of the story: Travel with crafty friends. /teal their art. Profit.

Daaaamn! We are goofy.

Your Crochet /urvival Guide for Travel
